

Five Nations

Electronic Press Kit – “Five Nations”

Series Title: Five Nations

Author: Dani Dixon

Genre: fantasy, historical fiction

Medium: novels/chapter books

Formats: print

Published: Five Nations Coloring Book: Flora, Fabric & Fauna

Most recent/next publication date: Five Nations: Peace Day (January 2018)

Recommended age: 9+

Tagline: There’s a reason you can never find the IT guy when you need him.

Book Description

“Five Nations” is a middle grade book series. It takes places in an utopian medieval world where every nation has a princess whose main purpose is to be an Ambassador for peace.

Main Characters: Princess Tuyền, Princess Anna’ Bilh-heh-neh, Princess Eiric, Princess Catequil, Princess Kelile

Short Synopsis: Set in medieval times, a novel about the five princesses in charge of world peace.

Long Synopsis: The Five Nations: Endelle; Azin; Callen; Ponosta; and Erducé; are spread out roughly like the fingers on a hand. Each Nation shares a border with at least one other Nation. They also share a common land, a neutral zone, known as 'The Palm'. The Nations have held a comfortable peace for generations by faithfully maintaining the desperate agreement forged after decades of debilitating war.

Each Nation has its own Royal Family, customs, and language. In each Royal Family there is a Princess, whose sole responsibility is to be an Ambassador of Peace.

On the annual commemoration of the end of the great wars, "Peace Day", these five girls - Princess Tuyên, Princess Anna' Bilh-heh-neh, Princess Eiric, Princess Catequil, Princess Kelile - are only prepared to dance, laugh, and exchange gifts.

That isn't, however, what they will be called to do.

Social Media

Twitter: @theFiveNations; @Tumble_Creek

Facebook: Facebook.com/TumbleCreekPress

Images

Book Covers

Character Images

Logos – TCP logo and Five Nations logo

Review Copies – By request. Please send an email to publicity at tumblecreekpress dot com